Truman, Ickes Settle Feud

President Plans 2-Week Election Bid

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—President Truman put patches on a couple of old political feuds today and prepared to hit the road again on Wednesday, northward bound. He was described as confident of "great progress" in recent stumping.

Former Secretary of the Interior, Harold L. Ickes, who quit the Truman cabinet in wrath, paid his first visit to the White House in two and one-half years. He came out smiling, said the chat was "entirely friendly" and promised a statement "in good time."

A. F. Whitney, the railroad trainman's chief who once vowed to throw his union's treasury into a fight against Mr. Truman but changed his mind, disclosed plans to campaign for the Democrats across the country.

Plans Two-Week Campaign
After these two parleys, the president plotted two more weeks of grinding train-and-plane campaigning in a huddle with Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic chairman. Mr. Truman has been home only two days from a 140-plus speech tour of the west.

The campaign flag will be hoisted over the presidential special train Wednesday for a thrust into industrial Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and upstate New York.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross promised "a major speech on atomic energy" at the kickoff in Philadelphia on Wednesday night. Major talks also will be made at Jersey City on Thursday and Buffalo on Friday, with lesser speeches sprinkled along the rest of way.

Will Speak in Springfield
Then, after a one-day pause in Washington, Mr. Truman will strike west on Sunday for major or near-major speeches at Akron, O., on October 11 and on the succeeding days at Springfield, Ill., St. Paul, Minn., Milwaukee, Wis., and Indianapolis.

The fortnight's travel will be rounded out with a "non-political" address to the American Legion convention at Miami on Oct. 18 and two speeches at Raleigh, N. C., on Oct. 19. He will fly both ways this trip.

Later, welcome addresses at Cleveland and Chicago and a swing into the three New England states which, his advisers say, he has a good chance to win—Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. And finally, home to Missouri for the windup.

Illinois Demos Find No Hope In Records: Green

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Gov. error Green said tonight that Illinois Democrats "find no hope" in their national record and would like to keep President Truman out of the election campaign "as much as possible."

"None of them has the temerity to tell us that Truman is the man to preserve the peace of the world," the Republican governor added in a prepared radio campaign speech. Green said Democrats have undertaken a "smear campaign" against his bid for reelection but that their current attempt to twist the facts of the state record is a "dismal failure."

The governor asserted "the New Deal's bungling abroad has lost the peace. Its bungling at home has weakened our military power, sapped our economic resources and undermined our national unity."

He said there is "nationwide resentment against the New Deal's appeasement of communism abroad and its coddling of communists at home."

Auto Industry Now Back In High Gear Production

Detroit, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Temporarily at least the auto industry is back in high volume operation.

Barring unexpected labor or materials shortages in will turn out more than half a million cars and trucks this month. It hasn't attained that volume since the summer of 1941.

Last week the factories built more than 88,000 passenger cars and about 26,000 trucks. The total, among the so far this year, was made possible by the return of Chrysler and Packard to full production and substantial gains by other manufacturers.

John James Audubon, the naturalist, died in 1851.

PONTIAC BOY SHOT IN FREAK ACCIDENT

Pontiac, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—A 13-year-old boy was killed today in a shotgun accident.

The dead youth, John Paris of Pontiac, was shot in the chest when a shotgun which had been leaning against the front steps of a friend's home toppled over.

Young Paris and two friends, Arthur Milam and William Bromley, had been squirrel hunting in the morning. They were about to start hunting this afternoon when Paris was shot.

Nation's Rails Agree To Increase Workers' Pay

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The nation's railroads agreed today to a 10 cents an hour wage increase, effective Oct. 16, for 175,000 operating railroad personnel.

The increase covers conductors, trainmen, yardmen, yardmasters, and dining car employees represented by the Order of Railway Trainmen and the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen.

The two unions had asked for a wage increase of 25 per cent. Negotiations on the increase have been underway since Sept. 14.

Announcement of the settlement was made jointly by H. W. Fraser, president of the Conductors Union, D. A. Mac Kenzie, assistant president of the trainmen; and Daniel P. Loomis, chairman of the western railroads' wage committee in behalf of the carriers.

Loomis estimated the new increases would add $55,665,000 a year to the railroads' labor costs, including payroll taxes. He said that if this same increase is applied to all railroad workers the carriers' operating costs would rise $381,175,000 annually.

Negotiations are still pending on the demands for wage increases for three other operating unions and 16 non-operating groups.

Secretary Of Army Speaks In Marking Newspaper Week

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall today congratulated the nation's press in a statement marking the observance of National Newspaper Week October 1-8.

"Few things are more important to the peoples of a democracy than a free and unadulterated flow of facts," he said.

"This week throughout the nation National Newspaper Week is being celebrated under the slogan: 'Your right to know is the key to all your liberties.'"

"In these days when people throughout the world are thirsting for peace, this slogan is apt indeed. To the press of the nation I extend my congratulations for past accomplishments and wishes for continued progress."

Youths Learn Safe Cracking In Book; Find It's No Good
Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Two youths who claimed they learned safe cracking and burglary from a Public Library book were sentenced today to a year and one-half in jail on burglary charges.

Chief Justice James J. McDermott of criminal court sentenced Walter McCaffery, 18, and Richard O'Connor, 20. They had pleaded guilty to three burglary charges. They also received three and one-half years probation.

The youths told Judge McDermott they obtained a total of $5,700 in cash and some $5,000 in merchandise in the forays.

They told the judge they accidentally came across a book written by a New York policeman whose name they could not recall. Each claimed to have read the book at least three times. The book, they said, was titled "modern crime investigations."

WEALTHY BACHELOR DIES; PREACHED OWN SERVICE 4 YEARS AGO
Richland Center, Wis., Oct. 4.—(AP) Recorded his own funeral service. Enchored Jewell, 86, who preached and four years ago, died yesterday.

Jewell, a wealthy bachelor, also had written his own obituary and inscribed his tombstone—with the date of death left blank.

Transcriptions made in 1944 included a sermon and songs that he directed to be played at his funeral services, which will be held Wednesday.

Wallace Asserts Farm Program Is Undermined

Fresno, Calif., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Henry Wallace, in what was tabbed as one of the main farm speeches of his campaign for the presidency, accused the Democrats and Republicans to night of "sniping away" at the farm program developed under President Roosevelt.

In his address, prepared for delivery at the Memorial auditorium in this agricultural center, Wallace demanded federal price supports for raisins and other specialty crops.

He repeated his criticism of California's Governor Earl Warren, the Republican candidate for vice president.

Wallace said when President Truman was in California he described Warren as "almost a Democrat."

"I put it up to you," said Wallace. "Warren may be a Democrat under Truman's definition. But Roosevelt would never have called him one."

The Progressive party candidate said Roosevelt and the New Deal, not Truman or Republican Candidate Thomas E. Dewey, first approved federal financing for the Central Valley project, which will bring more irrigation water to this region.

Select Montgomery To Head 5-Nation Military Alliance

London, Tuesday, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Viscount Montgomery, chief of the imperial general staff, has been appointed military chairman of the five-nation Western European Alliance, it was announced officially today.

French General of the Army Jean De Lattre De Tassigny was named commander in chief of the land forces of the alliance.

British Air Marshal Sir James Robb was picked to command the alliance's air forces.

French Vice Admiral Robert Jaurd was named flag officer of the naval forces.

Montgomery's official title will be permanent military chairman of the commanders-in-chief forming the defense council of the western powers—Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

French Gen. Alphonse Juin, resident general in French Morocco, was reported earlier to have been offered the land forces command but declined it.

The appointments were announced in a foreign office communique which had been expected for several days. Presumably the delay was due to the time needed to fill all the appointments.

Court Will Rule On Progressive Suit In Illinois

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A three-judge federal court will rule Thursday on a suit to put Progressive party candidates on the official election ballot in Illinois.

This was announced today by Judge Michael L. Igoe, member of the panel of judges as it took a petition for a declaratory judgment under advisement. Other judges hearing the suit were Otto Kerner of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals and District Judge Philip L. Sullivan.

More than 200 persons were present for hearing of arguments today. The suit was brought by the Progressive party against Gov. Dwight H. Green and 143 other defendants, most of them county clerks in charge of election arrangements.

Richard Watt, attorney for the Progressive party, argued that section two of article ten, Illinois Election Code, is unconstitutional because it requires 200 registered voters from each county in the state to make valid a petition for a new party.

He declared that even if there were four million signatures on a petition but one county failed to produce 200 signatures, the petition would be invalid.

Warren Declares Top Production Can Lick Inflation
Pittsburgh, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Gov. Earl Warren declared tonight that only by "all-out production equal to our every need" can the United States lick inflation and at the same time, arm itself against the threat of aggression from abroad.

The Republican vice presidential candidate reached this steel producing center following a day in which some of the largest crowds of his campaign, turned out to meet his special train as it cut westward across Pennsylvania.

Speaking tonight at a Republican rally in Syria, Ohio, Warren cast back to Wendell Willkie's 1940 campaign assertion that "none but the productive can be strong, none but the strong can be free."

"It is just as true today as it was in 1940 that only the strong can remain free, and only the productive can be strong."

SPRINGFIELD EXTENDS HELPING HAND TO HOT SPRINGS, ARK.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—This city today lent a 5,000 pump to help ease a water shortage in Hot Springs, Ark.

An Arkansas National Guard plane, piloted by Mayor Earl Ricks of Hot Springs, came here to pick up the pump for use in drawing water from a lake near the Arkansas city.

The Springfield municipal plant agreed to lend the pump after receiving an appeal from Hot Springs officials, who said a reservoir water supply was depleted because of a prolonged drought.

Dewey Confers With John Dulles On Russ Situation

Albany, N.Y., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey talked briefly today with his key adviser on foreign affairs, John Foster Dulles, preparatory to a full dress conference they will hold here tomorrow on relations with Russia.

The Republican presidential nominee and Dulles chatted by telephone shortly after Dulles flew in New York from Paris about noon.

Dulles is a U.S. delegate to the United Nations general assembly now in session in the French capital. He is coming to Albany at Dewey's request for a general review of the foreign situation pointed up by the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

Dulles plans to fly back to Paris either tomorrow night or Wednesday morning, a Dewey aide said, for U.N. Security Council sessions on the Berlin blockade.

Draft Eligibles In Illinois Will Be Examined Soon

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Physical examinations for draft-eligible men will begin in Illinois Oct. 11.

Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state Selective Service director, said that men to fill the state's quota of 527 inductees for November will be picked from those examined during the first few weeks.

The induction date has not been set, but it cannot be before Nov. 5. The Selective Service act provides that men cannot be inducted sooner than 21 days after receiving notice of classification.

These notices probably will be sent out about three days after examination.

Armstrong said men attending college will be included in the November quota, but that status of college men in future months has not been determined.

Selection will be based upon draft serial numbers, with the lowest numbers being called first. The draft boards will assign numbers based upon age and date of birth, the oldest men—in the 25 year group—receiving the lowest numbers.

Pilot's Skill In Crash Landing Saves 23 Lives

Miami, Fla., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Twenty-three persons saved by a pilot's skill in a night crash landing on a lonely Bahama island were flown here by rescue planes tonight.

Nineteen Puerto Rican passengers appeared somewhat confused by their experience but agreed it "wasn't too bad."

The twin-engine DC-3 charter air liner made a crash landing on Haines Cay in the Berry island group, about 60 miles northwest of Nassau, in pitch black darkness.

Richard Roy Oliver, pilot of the plane and president of the company, said they were flying direct from Teterboro, N.C., to Miami and wind-drift drove the plane off its course.

"We were low on gas and were looking for a place of habitation," Oliver said. "We sighted a ship and sent a distress signal, but got no reply. We were flying about 1,500 feet altitude and came in low over the island. We had our landing light on, but it was pitch black. The plane skidded off into the water, but all the passengers got out through windows and helped push the plane back onto the beach. The only damage to the plane was the propellers."

Ruth Benden, 30, the plane's stewardess and only woman aboard, said the passengers—all Puerto Rican laborers—"remained calm and took it very well."

MT. VERNON GROCER FATALITY INJURED BY AUTO
Centerville, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—George Garrison, 78, a Mt. Vernon grocer, was injured fatally today by an automobile when he walked into Route 37 a mile south of Mt. Vernon.

Say Russia Threatening World Peace

Paris, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky demanded angrily today that the Berlin deadlock go to the council of foreign ministers.

The United States insisted firmly that the security council act to halt the Soviet blockade.

Vishinsky said the security council had no business discussing the stalemate. "Gentlemen, you have got the wrong address," he cried out.

U. S. Delegate Philip C. Jessup backed up by Britain—said Russia is threatening world peace in Berlin, and the threat is against the United States, Britain and France. Jessup said the Security Council is the place to handle such threats to peace.

Adjourn Without Voting
The council adjourned without a vote after three hours and 20 minutes of procedural wrangles and debate on whether to put the western power complaint against the Russians on the agenda (calendar).

Another meeting was set for tomorrow at 3 p.m. (8 a.m. CST), when France and Syria have asked for the floor.

There was no hint when the vote would come. Vishinsky said "we shall not be parties to such violations" of the U. N. charter but he gave no indication whether he would walk out or stay to fight if the council decides to hear the case.

Usually reliable United Nations sources said top-flight U. N. leaders—probably Secretary-General Trygve Lie and Dr. Herbert Evatt, Australian foreign minister and assembly president—intend to offer to mediate the Berlin dispute.

Livestock Experts Predict Cheaper Meat Prices

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—"Meat prices are coming down," livestock experts predicted today as hog prices tumbled sharply at major corn belt markets.

Farmers unloaded heavy runs at such points as Chicago, Indianapolis, East St. Louis, Kansas City and South St. Paul. In general, prices dropped around $1.00 to $2.00 a hundred pounds. This followed a steady decline all last week.

The American Meat Institute said "Signs of declines in some wholesale meat prices are developing, but it takes a little time for adjustments in wholesale prices to be reflected at retail levels." The association added larger meat supplies were in sight.

Chauncey Watson, president of the Illinois Livestock Feeders' Association, told the Chicago Farmers club the top price for cattle next year will be down around $25.00 a hundred pounds. It's around $40.00 now.

Watson feeds between 1,000 and 1,500 cattle a year on an 800 acre farm in DeKalb county. The Chicago Farmers club is a group of businessmen who own farms in suburban areas.

Charge New York Attorney With Theft From Mother

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A socially prominent New York lawyer was charged today with defrauding his mother and sister by stealing $1,362,000 from his father's estate.

The attorney, 42-year-old Leonard Bacon Clark, a graduate of both Yale and Harvard, was arrested today as he left a hospital in White Plains, N.Y.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said Clark's wife had obtained a court order committing him to the hospital after he had attempted to commit suicide at his mother's home last month. He was later ordered discharged.

Clark's mother, Mrs. Edna E. Clark, 74, and his sister, Mrs. Virginia Clark, 74, were in the hospital. Clark, who is trustee with him of his father's estate.

Largest Bank In Nation Faces Anti-Trust Suit

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Anti-trust charges against the TransAmerica corporation of San Francisco, the nation's largest bank holding company will be aired in public here Oct. 12.

The Federal Reserve board, making its first official disclosure of the case today, said TransAmerica itself requested that the hearings be made public.

TransAmerica, headed by A. P. Giannini of the California banking family, has an interest in more than 500 banks and industrial firms in five western states.

The complaint, a civil charge, was originally filed last June 24. The suit alleges that TransAmerica developed a "credit monopoly" by putting directors on the boards of banks in the bank of America chain in California and other banks in Washington, Oregon, Arizona and Nevada.

The case was filed under the Clayton Anti-Trust act, which permits the Federal Reserve board to sit as a "court" and pass on the evidence, thus in effect serving in the dual of complainant and jury. If the board finds against TransAmerica, it could order the corporation to get rid of all its stock in banks.

This power under the Clayton act, which was passed by Congress in 1914.

Congressional hearings last spring disclosed that the Justice Department was studying possible Anti-Trust action against TransAmerica as far back as 1945, but was dubious it could win such a case.

Giannini and Mariner S. Eccles, former chairman of the Federal Reserve board, have long clashed in public over a bill sponsored by Eccles which would permit the FRB to regulate bank holding companies.

The bill has come up in several sessions of Congress, but never passed.

Writer Appeals To Supreme Court In Contempt Count

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—John Howard Lawson, Hollywood movie writer, carried an appeal to the Supreme court today against his conviction for contempt of Congress.

Lawson's petition, filed as the justices met for the start of their fall term, challenged both the authority and the methods of the House committee on un-American activities.

"No organ of our government, unless perhaps a military tribunal within sound of battle, has ever laid claim to such powers," the petition said.

Lawson was convicted following his refusal to tell the House committee whether he is or ever has been a communist. He is a former president of the Screen Writers Guild and author of such screen plays as "Algiers," "Smashup" and "Blockade."

Lawson argued that the committee's operations threaten all forms of public expression, including church and school, and menace the "very existence as free men" of citizens who will not willingly submit to invasion of their constitutional rights.

There was no assurance that Lawson would get a high court hearing at this time. He was trying to bypass the court of appeals, where the case is now pending and get an immediate ruling from the highest bench. The Supreme court will first decide whether it wants to take over before the intermediate court has had its say.

Seek Court Order Limiting ITU Hiring Rules

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Government attorneys today asked for an International Typographical Union federal court order barring the AFL from seeking to compel hiring discrimination against non-union printers under its contract with New York newspaper publishers.

Counsel for the National Labor Relations Board made the same request with respect to ITU's contracts with newspapers at Buffalo and Syracuse, N. Y., and those of the Gannett group, including Gannett papers at Rochester, N. Y., and Danville, Ill.

The request was contained in the NLRB's final brief and proposed decree in the NLRB general counsel's contempt case against the printers' union.

The union also filed its final papers, proposing that a contempt citation be dismissed. The ITU said it should be cleared of charges that it has violated an injunction issued last March by Judge Luther M. Swygert at Hammond, Ind., prohibiting Taft-Hartley law violation.

The injunction particularly directed the ITU from seeking to continue closed shop conditions, in view of the Taft-Hartley provisions against discrimination favoring union members over non-union members for jobs.

The United States produces 90 per cent of the world's finished silk goods.

ILLINOIS WOMAN TRAMPLED BY COW

Sterling, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. John Cordes, 45, of Route 1, Tampico, was in critical condition today with injuries suffered when she was trampled by an enraged cow.

Her 13-year-old daughter, Barbara, saved her from possible death by frightening off the cow and shielding her prostrate mother with an automobile. The girl blew the car horn and screamed until she attracted the attention of her father working in a barn. He drove the cow away.

Hoist Hurricane Warnings Along Florida Keys

Miami, Fla., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Hurricane warnings were hoisted along the Florida keys from Key Largo to dry Tortugas today as a tropical storm offering a threat of wind and flood to South Florida pushed northward from the Caribbean Sea.

Southeast storm warnings flew north of Key Largo to Miami and along the Gulf coast to Fort Myers. A hurricane alert was sounded by storm forecasters for the southern half of the Florida peninsula, south of a line extending from Tarpon Springs to Titusville.

Winds near 100 miles an hour swirled around the center of the rapidly-developing hurricane.

Its center at 4:30 p.m. (CST) was near latitude 21 north, longitude 85 west, or about 60 miles south of the western tip of Cuba. This is about 450 miles southwest of Fort Myers, Fla.

The storm is moving northward about 12 miles an hour. Storm forecasters predicted a northeastward turn after it crosses Cuba during the night.

Strongest winds cover an area of about 40 miles around the center, with heavy gales extending outward 100 miles to the east and northeast.

Says All Illinois Overburdened With Taxes

Waukegan, Ill., Oct. 4.—Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic candidate for governor, said tonight that Illinois "The Rich State" should "face the problem of the poor towns and the overburdened taxpayer."

Stevenson told a political rally that assessment practices under the state's recently adopted full value law for real estate levies were "soured from taxpayers."

"I am going to ask for a county-wide system of supervision of assessments to remove the inequalities and injustices in assessments which are aggravated by the butler bills," he said.

Speaking of tax bill increases, Stevenson said: "In fairness to Governor Green and his administration, many communities have noted a part of these taxes upon themselves, and it is true that the cost of government, like everything else in this world, has gone up."

"But I do object to the secrecy with which Green's agents decide how much each county's assessments must be increased. I do object to his hiding money in Springfield to spend millions on useless payrollers and in graft for his political machine, instead of helping with schools and local government expenses to relieve the local tax burden."

Barkley Accuses GOP's Of Forming Breach In Labor

Ottumwa, Ia., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Senator Alben W. Barkley, Democratic vice presidential nominee, accused the Republican party tonight of trying to foment class division between labor and agriculture.

Concluding a swift grain belt campaign in which he spoke at Mason City and Mankato, Minn., and Rochester and Ottumwa, Iowa, the Kentucky senator said the GOP tactics were "reprehensible."

"You cannot," he declared, "discriminate against labor without hurting agriculture nor can you discriminate against agriculture without hurting labor."

A prosperous agriculture, Barkley said, is beneficial to labor and industry because farmers in good years buy 25 per cent of industrial production.

ILLINOIS VETS BONUS
Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Illinois Veterans received 3,800 bonuses amounting to $1,301,941.28 today. To date, the Service Recognition Board has approved $269,577,374.89 in bonuses for 365,399 Cook county and 350,999 downstate veterans.

For National Unity To Keep World Peace

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP) Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich) tonight described national unity as the best peace insurance aid said U. S. voters can change the national administration "without affecting the continuity of our foreign policy."

At the same time, the chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee condemned Russia's attitude on the Berlin blockade as a "threat to everybody's peace, our own emphatically included."

Vandenberg predicted the election of Republican Thomas E. Dewey as president in indirect but unmistakable language. He said the republicans cooperated with the administration on a bi-partisan foreign policy and added:

"I express the belief that our patriotic, democratic friends will follow this example when they are the 'opposition' come next January 20."

Vandenberg praised Dewey and his running mate, Gov. Earl Warren of California, calling them men of exceptional "administrative genius."

Vandenberg listed two major advantages in a bi-partisan foreign policy:

"One: 'It permits our democracy to speak with a great degree of unity at critical moments.'"

"Two: 'It leaves us free to change our national administration, if such be the peoples' desire and advantage, without affecting the continuity of our foreign policy.'"

Truckers' Strike Closes Kroger Stores In State

Cincinnati, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A strike of truck drivers at the Kroger company warehouse at Carbondale, Ill., caused the closing of 48 stores in the southern part of that state, a company spokesman announced here late today.

The company, which operates 123 stores in the Carbondale area, issued this statement:

"Delivery of merchandise to the 123 Kroger stores in the southern Illinois territory has been halted by a strike of truck drivers and warehousemen which began last Friday."

"Because of a lack of merchandise, it has been necessary for the company to close a number of the stores."

"Negotiations for renewal of the contract have been in progress for several weeks, but the company and union have been unable to reach an agreement on wages and hours."

KOCH RELEASE IS INDICATION OF SOFTNESS WE CAN'T AFFORD

Early last June the American military government in Germany reduced the prison sentence of Ilse Koch from life to four years. She is the widow of the commandant of the inhuman Buchenwald concentration camp. With the time she has already served she will be eligible for release next year.

Almost four months later some members of Congress got wind of the matter. That was the first that the country heard of it. The usually alert and efficient Army public relations explained this strange lack of information as "a slip up on our part. We just simply failed to get the information out."

There was a good deal of hot-potato tossing after three senators asked Army Secretary Royall for an explanation of the commutation. Finally it developed that the standing war crimes board of review in Germany had examined the record of the case and decided that there was not enough evidence to warrant such a drastic sentence.

We cannot quote testimony from Ilse Koch's trial. But we seem to remember that Buchenwald survivors stated that she did display a subhuman taste for human skins in home decoration. And we recall that she was accused not only of desecrating the dead but of inflicting sadistic torture on the living. Her unsavory reputation had reached this country before the Nazi surrender. And the stories told at her trial failed to make it less unsavory.

It may be that the mistress of Buchenwald went about her household duties oblivious to the unspeakable carnage outside her door. It may be, but we frankly doubt it. Somehow our heart cannot bleed for Frau Koch.

Remembering the pictures of the Buchenwald dead stacked like cordwood, remembering the stories of how those dead had died under the direction of this woman's husband, remembering too the stories of her own contribution to their suffering, we are not cheered by the review board's leniency.

American minds today are filled with the present threat of a stubborn, ambitious, ruthless Russian government, not the past threat of the defeated Hitlerites. This is natural.

Yet it does seem a bit callous that, after the execution or imprisonment of the top Nazis, our military government in Germany seems to have dismissed a great deal of Nazi criminality from its mind. The white heat of indignation seems to have been forgotten, together with the memory of the millions of non-combatants who suffered and died under an organized program of national bestiality unmatched in modern history.

We should have to think that the secret commutation of Ilse Koch's sentence (secret in the United States, that is) was part of an effort to win favor in the east-west struggle for the Germans' support. That would not only be a heartless insult to those whom this country fought to free and avenge. It would, we believe, impress the Germans more with our weakness and gullibility than with our kindness and justice.

And to be practical about it, such a motive would play into Communist hands. Already the American branch has exploited the Koch incident by saying that we are smearing the Reds and coddling the Nazis.

A policy of softness toward the Germans is, we believe, as ill-advised and could be as damaging as a similar policy toward the Russian government.

Big Muddy's Harness In Sight
As Blueprints Grow Into DamsFourth Project
Started; One Is Now Operating

(By Bruce Campbell
NEA Special Correspondent)

Pierre, S. D.—(NEA)—One of the greatest engineering projects in the nation—the harnessing of the Missouri River for flood control, power and irrigation—is now emerging from the planning into the construction stage.

The Big Muddy's last great flood in 1947 took 26 lives and caused $110,000,000 damage in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri and the Dakotas. Today control is in sight in a series of great multipurpose dams built or building.

The main stem dams are being built by the Army Corps of Engineers and the tributary dams and co-ordinated projects by the Bureau of Reclamation, and other agencies. Overseeing the job and co-ordinating efforts of Federal agencies and states is the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee, composed of representatives from the 10 basin states and the Federal agencies involved. It already has drawn up a six-year plan of work schedules.

Fort Peck, in Montana, is complete and the reservoir is filling up. It is already producing power, which the Bureau of Reclamation is selling to rural co-operatives and private utilities in Montana and other basin states.

Next dam to the south is Garrison Dam, near Bismarck, N. D. It is now in its second year of construction, with Army engineers spending more than $20 million there this year. Its chief asset will be flood control, with a drainage area of 179,000 square miles.

Near Pierre, Oahe, the highest dam—227 feet high and 8300 feet long at the top of the earth-filled embankment—has just been started. Engineers estimate it will cost an eventual total of $221,000,000. It will drain 60,000 square miles, an area as large as the entire state of Georgia.

Well into construction is Fort Randall dam, near Yankton, S. D. Nineteen million dollars is being spent there this year in its second year of construction. It may be finished by 1951. It will be 140 feet high.

Construction has not yet been started on Big Bend dam, between Oahe and Fort Randall, or on Gavins Point, below Fort Randall.

These are the main projects in the damming of the Missouri River under the Pick-Sloan plan, named for Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick and

Near the top of the Big Muddy in Montana, water now rushes through these spillways at Fort Peck Reservoir, first of the 10-state chain of projects to control the river.

Bureau of Reclamation engineer W. G. Sloan. Gen. Pick also chairman of the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee as well as Missouri River division engineer of the Corps of Engineers.

In addition to the Big Muddy itself, however, hundreds of tributaries, with names that reveal the French and Indian pedigree of the basin country, feed the Missouri. There are rivers like the Yellowstone, Grand, Moreau, Cheyenne, Platte, Republican, Kansas, Belle Fourche and Smoky Hill. On the Missouri and tributaries together, the Pick-Sloan plan embraces the building of 105 dams and reservoirs.

The biggest power and irrigation development is the Oahe-James Valley project. The Oahe Dam at Pierre will create a huge reservoir 250 miles long, from Pierre nearly to Bismarck. Two turbines to be installed initially will create 140,000 kilowatts of power, but when all planned turbines are installed, the Missouri tumbling through the penstocks will make 490,000 kilowatts, according to engineers' plans.

The Bureau of Reclamation will pump water out of the Oahe reservoir into a giant canal that will flow eastward 125 miles toward Huron, in central South Dakota, on the James River. Offshooting from the canal will be laterals for irrigating one million acres of level land that once made up the dust bowl of the nation.

The Pick-Sloan plan is converting the Big Muddy, in the words of Gen. Pick, into a "river of gold."

Hold Services For
Paul Keenan Who Died In Accident

Services in memory of Paul Keenan, 26 year old Alexander young man, who lost his life in an airplane accident near this city last Thursday night, were held Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Alexander Methodist church which was filled to overflowing. About 200 persons remained on the church lawn during the services.

Rev. C. E. Cox of the Church of God in this city officiated, assisted by Rev. C. W. Leonard, pastor of the Alexander church.

Music was provided by the Morgan County Four, consisting of Alvin Middendorf, Alvin Lovkamp, Harold Kamm and Edwin Gordon. Mrs. Elmer Strawn was at the piano.

The many floral tributes were in care of Mrs. Holman Robinson, Mrs. Beulah Roberts, Mrs. Henry Leadill, Mrs. Wilbur Kumble, Mrs. Georgiana Tibble, Mrs. Lewis Pate, and Mrs. George Kemp.

Casket bearers were Philip Holman, Wallace Tibble, Harold Cockin, Henry Leadill, Francis Kaiser, Robert Zeller, Holman Robbins and Wilbur Kumble.

Honorary escorts were Herl Jordan, Charles Gutzman, Paul Smith, Maurice Mansfield, Louis Fernandes, and Zed Bell.

Brune-Komnick Vows
Pledged At ChurchLutheran Church
Scene Of Pretty
Wedding Sunday

In a lovely afternoon ceremony which took place Sunday at 3 o'clock at Salem Lutheran church, Miss Norma Komnick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Komnick, 961 East College avenue, became the bride of Warren Brune, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brune, 839 N. Church street.

The double-ring rites were performed by the pastor, the Rev. Herman H. Koppelman. Soloist for the occasion was Mrs. Gerald Cook who sang "O, Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Song."

The bride was accompanied by the organ by Walter Deffner. The bride's sister, Miss Carolyn Komnick, served as maid of honor. The best man was Carl Brune, brother of the bridegroom.

Ushers were Robert Long, cousin of the bride, and Charles Lowry, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Bride Wears White
The gown worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was of white satin, fashioned with lace-edged yoke of sheer net, fitted bodice, accented with rows of shirring, and long sleeves, tapering to points at the wrists. The full skirt terminated in a chapel train.

The bridal veil, fingertip in length, was of illusion tulle, edged in lace and held in place with a wreath of tiny buds centered with pearls. An arrangement of tea roses fashioned the bridal bouquet.

The maid of honor was attired in a gown of sylvan green satin. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of yellow roses and mums.

For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Komnick chose a dress of aqua crepe, with which she wore brown accessories. A dress of black, worn with matching accessories, comprised the ensemble of the bridegroom's mother. Corsages of talisman roses were worn by both mothers.

Hundred at Reception
A reception honoring the couple was given at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Members of the immediate families were present. The serving was done by the Misses Virginia Scott, Ruth Komnick and Mary Jane Eck.

Per capita consumption of apples in the United States is half an apple a day for every man, woman, and child.

The couple then left on a brief wedding trip. As her going-away ensemble, the bride chose a dress of brown faille, with which she wore a white coat with brown accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

Mrs. Brune is employed in the office of the New Method Book Bindery. Her husband is employed in the office of the Eli Bridge Co.

After Oct. 10, the couple will be at home at 837 North Church street.

Dinner, Shower At White Hall

White Hall—Mrs. Joe Brogdon, assisted by Mrs. Russell McGlasson, entertained Friday night at her home at a shower honoring Mrs. Glenn Dawdy. About 16 guests were present. Refreshments of cake, ice cream and coffee were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Berline entertained at dinner Friday night, the occasion being their tenth wedding anniversary. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Neal and daughter, Patty, and Miss Ben Goller.

Edwin Lowenstein, of Highland, has spent the week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lowenstein. He accompanied his mother to Jacksonville where she underwent surgery in Our Saviour's hospital on Tuesday.

Miss Martha Hubbard, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Hubbard, of this city, has entered nurses training at Barnhart hospital in St. Louis.

Nathan Patrick, superintendent of the sewage disposal plant now being built, was guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Berline of Hillview.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Powell of Bloomington were weekend guests of Mrs. Powell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Morrow of this city.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Joslin were Mr. and Mrs. George Schields, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Liebman of St. Louis.

Miss Barbara Jean Seymour, a student at the University of Missouri at Columbia, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Seymour.

Mrs. Norman Beggs and mother, Mrs. W. S. Corsa, returned Friday to their home in Chicago, having spent the summer on their farm near White Hall.

Mrs. H. C. Morrow of St. Louis is a guest of Mrs. Emma Chapman of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Berline and two children, Howard and Prudence Beth, Miss Ben Goller, of White Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Albert McConathy, Mrs. Ross Everett and daughter, Mrs. John Everett, of Roodhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McConathy, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McConathy of Alton enjoyed a family picnic at Rock Springs Park in Alton Sunday.

Marjorie Choate and Miss Vivian Christison. The guests were registered by Miss Frances Heinlich.

After the reception, the couple left on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. and New York. For traveling, the bride chose a dress of steel blue satin, with which she wore black accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Christison was graduated from Jacksonville High school and attended Illinois college for two years. She is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon and is now employed at Kline's.

Her husband, also a graduate of Jacksonville High school, served in the army during World War II. He is also employed at Kline's.

The couple will make their home at 759 West Douglas avenue.

Proceeding the ceremony, the candles were lighted by Mrs. Marian Lair and Marilyn Cruise. An organ prelude, which included "I Love You Truly," was presented by Noel Rousey, organist. Mr. Rousey also accompanied Miss Jo Ann Benson, who sang "Because" and "O, Promise Me." Following the exchange of vows, "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Bill Ewing.

The maid of honor was Miss Wanda Marine. Ralph Evans served as best man. The ushers were Richard Denny, Ivan Ingram, Jr., Howard F. Choate and Bill McGlasson.

Given By Father
The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in the bridal gown worn by the groom's sister at her wedding. The princess-style gown was of white tulle, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and leg o'mutton sleeves. Wide bands of imported lace paneled the front and back and edged the chapel train. The same lace accented the fingertip veil of net illusion.

As her only jewelry, the bride wore a pearl necklace, given her by the bridegroom. Her bouquet was of gardenias, centered with an orchid and tied with a large satin bow.

American Beauty faillie fashioned the gown worn by the maid of honor. The gown was styled with a gathered Bertha, fitted bodice and long, flowing skirt. She wore opera-length gloves of matching faillie and a headband of white roses, and carried a bouquet of white flowers, centered with American Beauty roses.

A wine colored dress, complemented with black accessories, was worn by the bride's mother. The bridegroom's mother wore a black dress with matching accessories. Both had corsages of white roses.

Reception Follows Ceremony
A reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents immediately following the ceremony. Approximately 200 guests were in attendance.

A large three-tiered wedding cake was first cut by the couple and then served by the Misses Betty McFarland and Carolyn Kirkwood. Also assisting with the serving were Mrs. Mary Etta Goffinett, Mrs. Henry Mattes, Mrs. Viola Harris and Mrs. Marietta Goffinett.

Jerseyville Fire Fails To Slow Up Nuptial Schedule

Jerseyville—Cause of the fire which gutted the two story building on South State Street, occupied by the Gubser Undertaking and Furniture Store and Theatre, and damaged adjacent buildings, has not been determined.

Estimates of damage ranged from $100,000 as a minimum up to $300,000. Insurance adjusters arrived on the scene Saturday afternoon and began the work of checking losses.

The fire was discovered about ten a.m. Saturday and the local fire department responded to the alarm. The fire gained headway steadily and help was solicited from other fire departments in this part of the state.

The merchandise stock of the Inman Store was almost entirely removed from the building and placed in the center of the street some distance north of the fire. Later in the day it was returned to the Inman building.

Stock of the Vogue Shoppe was also removed and taken to a warehouse close by for temporary storage. While the fire was at its height merchandise and equipment of the Central Illinois Public Service Company was moved to the sidewalk across the street.

The roof of the Dunphy building adjacent to the Jersey Theatre burned through into the attic, but the extension of the blaze was halted at this point by the heavy construction of hose lines from the various units that had gone into action.

Brighter Than Candlelight
An interesting sidelight of the fire was the wedding of a couple from Calhoun county in the office of Justice of the Peace Arthur Thatcher, directly across the street from the blaze.

The couple was Harvey Peters and Miss Pauline Herrman of Batchtown. They had arranged with Justice Thatcher a week ago to be married at his office at eleven o'clock Saturday morning. They arrived on time as the fire across the street reached its greatest intensity. Flames were leaping across the street and threatening to spread to the west side of State Street.

The wedding, however, was held as planned and while the ceremony was being performed an awning in front of the Shepard building where the wedding was being held caught fire but was quickly doused by a shot from a hose line.

Mission Group Has All-Day Meet At Chandlerville

An all-day meeting was held by the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Church of the Nazarenes at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Edge, near Chandlerville.

Following dinner, the regular business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. George Thies. Mrs. Thies, devotional leader for the occasion, read a poem entitled "What the World Needs." Several letters were also read from missionaries in foreign lands. Prayer was offered by Mrs. McKay.

A general discussion took place regarding the study book, "China Crisis." An article from the Missionary paper entitled "The Other Sheep" was read by Mrs. E. Kitner. Mrs. Thies sang the missionary hymn, "Send The Light."

Members responded to roll call by giving a quotation and its author. Reports of last month's meeting were given by the secretary and treasurer. Members chose a "big sister" from foreign missionaries.

The closing prayer was offered by Mrs. Kitner. The remainder of the afternoon was spent making bandages for missionary hospitals.

Tax Sale Begins Monday Morning

The annual tax sale opened Monday morning at the office of Sheriff Ralph Bourn, ex-officio tax collector, with a small crowd of interested persons in attendance.

Tax sales on delinquent property against which there are real estate taxes and special assessments will continue until all parcels on the delinquent list have been offered.

Sheriff Bourn was assisted by several deputies and clerks in conducting the sale.

This May Be GAR's Last Encampment

With only six of the 28 surviving members of the Grand Army of the Republic able to attend the 1948 encampment at Grand Rapids, Mich., a movement to disband the "boys in blue" organization is under way. This may be the last gathering of the "boys in blue." Those attending are, left to right, Charles Chappel, 102, Long Beach, Calif.; William Osborn, 104, Joplin, Mo.; John Grate, 103, Atwater, O.; Theodore Penland, 99, Portland, Ore.; Albert Woolson, 102, Duluth, Minn.; and James Hard, 107, Rochester, N. Y.

Goal Of Community Chest $39,000; To Open Campaign Friday

The goal for the Morgan County Community Chest and its agency activities for 1949 has been established at $39,000. The goal, announced Monday by Dr. Frank Marston, general chairman of the budget committee for the Chest.

The agencies were required to submit itemized budgets for their year's expenses and a careful analysis was made of each.

Harold Gibson, chairman of the budget committee, stated that he believes the budget to be reasonable and should be within easy reach if everyone in Morgan county does his share.

Other members of the budget committee are Carl Hamilton, Crit Haneline, George Lukeman Jr., Robert Kaufmann, Rollyn Trotter, Gordon Walker, William Townsley and Brooks Byus.

Quota Larger This Year
The quota for this year's campaign shows an increase of 33 1/3 per cent over the quota for last year. W. O. Randall, president of the Morgan County Community Chest, in commenting on the 1949 goal, said that the newly reactivated USO, which has been included in the quota, accounts for slightly less than 3 per cent of this increase. The highest of living and increases paid for salaries, food, clothing, fuel and materials necessary for proper care of the youth, the needy and the unfortunate constitute the balance of the increase.

Mr. Randall further pointed out that unless the campaign goal is oversubscribed the Community Chest will be prevented from adding new services or expanding present programs. Contributions must and should be greater this year if the Community Chest is to continue its efficient and effective work in Morgan county.

Dr. Marston announced that organization of the various divisions of the campaign has reached the final stages. Kick-off meetings are scheduled to begin Friday, Oct. 8. On this date the special gifts, industrial, institutional, residential and out-commercial divisions will begin their campaigns. The county, national firms and clubs and organizations divisions, since they are conducted by mail, have already gotten under way.

The commercial division will begin its campaign on Monday, Oct. 11.

Missionaries To Japan Will Speak To Baptist Women

White Hall—The quarterly association meeting of the Women's Missionary Society will be held Tuesday at Calvary Baptist church. Speakers will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sherer, who have been appointed missionaries to Japan. They will sail November 5.

A special offering will be taken for these missionaries.

Mrs. Donald Crossman, associational superintendent for the last two years, has planned a short installation for the new officers.

Dinner will be served by the women of Calvary church at the Womans Hall Annex.

Wedding at Hillview
Miss Doreen Mast, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mast, of White Hall became the bride of Robert Wear, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Wear, of Hillview, in a ceremony performed last Monday by the Rev. Victor DeSha in his home in Hillview.

The couple was attended by Mrs. Mary Frank, of Kane, sister of the bride, and George Wear, brother of the groom.

The couple left for a short wedding trip to the Ozarks and upon their return will reside in Hillview where the groom is engaged in farming with his father.

For her wedding the bride wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of white pompons. Her attendant wore an aqua dress with black accessories and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Wear is a graduate of the Hillview high school. Her husband is also a graduate of Hillview high school and of White Hall high school and is a navy veteran of World War Two.

New Fellowship Officers
Officers were elected by the Baptist Youth Fellowship at the meeting of the West Central Baptist association held Monday and Tuesday in White Hall. Juanita Fritz of Bethel, was named president; Rev. Owen Hamilton, Bethel, sponsor; Joan Campbell, Winchester, northern vice president; Gayle Eaglehoff, Jerseyville, southern vice president; Bonnie Smith, Barrow, secretary, and Shirley Geans, Eldred, treasurer.

More than 300 young people attended the B.Y.F. banquet and youth rally Monday night.

If all the waterfalls of the world were harnessed, they could furnish only 10 per cent of the power being used today.

Firemen Begin Inspection Tour Of Uptown Area

Neatly uniformed firemen will visit Jacksonville business establishments this week. Their calls will be made quietly, without puffers or sirens. They will make the rounds on foot to inspect buildings within the business district during Fire Prevention week.

Working in off-shifts, the firemen will inspect stores and office buildings to familiarize themselves with the arrangement and type of construction and to detect existing fire hazards. These will be called to the attention of tenants and property owners.

Chief Lonergan said the entire area within the fire limits will be covered systematically by firemen working in pairs.

Inspection of this nature have been made here for a number of years. Numerous hazards have been found and corrected through cooperation of property owners. It is believed that danger of fire has been considerably reduced through periodic inspections, but the firemen know that vigilance is needed at all times in preventing fires.

Tea Climaxes Meeting Of Music Federation

A tea Sunday afternoon in the social hall of MacMurray college was the concluding event in the two day meeting of the Illinois Federation of Music clubs held Saturday and Sunday at the college.

The sessions opened Saturday with a meeting of the executive board from 3 to 5 p. m. at the Dunlap hotel. In the evening a banquet was held at McClelland Dining hall.

The state president, Mrs. Charles A. Pardee of Chicago, presided over the banquet. She introduced the principal speaker, Mrs. Royden James Keith of Chicago, national president, and other distinguished guests including Mrs. James Allan Young and Mrs. Frederic Tellander of Chicago, national representatives, and Mrs. Alma K. Anderson of Chicago and Mrs. Ira L. McKenny of Springfield, both past state presidents.

Outlines Activities

In her address, Mrs. Keith outlined the work carried on by the federation, placing special emphasis on its project to rehabilitate veterans through music. She told of the federation's part in providing suitable musical programs for veterans and of supplying veterans with musical aptitudes with various instruments and arranging for their training.

Mrs. Keith also spoke of the biennial contests which the Federation sponsors, through which three $1,000 scholarships are awarded to the most outstanding students in voice, violin and piano.

A brief talk was also given by Mrs. Anderson. Her talk centered around the endowment foundation fund, which was started during her term as president of the state federation. This fund, for which $10,000 has already been raised, will provide for permanent federation headquarters in Chicago.

Faculty Gives Program

The musical portion of the program was presented by members of the MacMurray college music faculty. A forum on motion picture music followed.

A second board meeting preceded the tea Sunday, after which the delegates left for their respective homes. Approximately 150 persons, including many local musicians, were present at the two-day meeting.

Mrs. Homer Potter was general chairman. She was assisted by members of the faculty of MacMurray college.

Three local families, the Ben Lane family, the Yates Potter family and the James Rawlings family, are associated with the Federation.

CASH HOUSES' BUYING BOOSTS CORN; OTHER GRAINS SCORE GAINS

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(P)—Buying of corn by cash houses gave the yellow grain a lift on the board of trade today. Prices were up more than 2 cents at one time. The rest of the grain market scored smaller advances in sympathy with the corn upturn.

Offerings of cash corn on a to-arrival basis totaled only 14,000 bushels, of which 11,000 was new crop grain. This was very small business for Monday at this time of year. Visible supply of corn showed a slight increase this week, gaining 131,000 bushels.

Interest in wheat and oats was small. Mills bought a little wheat against sales of flour to the Netherlands East Indies. Soybeans held steady, helped by the advance in corn. Lard was a little lower most of the day as a result of another break in live hog prices.

Receipts were: wheat 34 cars; corn 121, oats 76, soybeans 131.

Wheat closed 1-1/8 higher, December $1.30, oats unchanged to 1/16 higher, December 73 1/2, soybeans 3 1/2 higher, December $1.62 1/2, and Soybeans 1/16 lower to 1/16 higher, November $2.39 1/2.

By CHARLES BELLATTI

And would we like to see more Fridays like the last one Chalk up two wins and a moral victory for our three Jacksonville paid teams. All in the short period of about eight hours.

Football fans go for their football. That was clear Friday night when over 2,000 turned out to greet the 1948 Blueboys, while many, many more made the 35-mile trip to Beardstown to see the Crimsons play ball.

That striped jug comes back to rest in the J.H.S. trophy case for another few months. The trophy is beginning to get use to the Morgan county surroundings after an absence of considerable length.

Coach Bob Kraushaar's club had reached a high pitch prior to the Beardstown game. In the J.H.S. camp one could sense the will to win and the determination to do so. Although they fell a bit short of the desired victory, the Crimsons completely surprised even their most loyal rooters.

According to reports from Cass county, Coach Nick Carter's outfit was satisfied with the tie. They knew they'd been in a ball game.

Coach Kraushaar said that, although he would gladly have settled for a tie at the time the bus left Jacksonville, he felt that his charges deserved a victory.

"And they still aren't playing the ball of which I think them capable," he confided following the traditional tilt.

We speak of the Jacksonville game first because it was the one which had the most surprising result. I.C. and I.S.D. pulled a few surprises, too, however. They both showed more strength in their Jacksonville inaugurals than home towns fans thought they possessed.

The Blueboys just weren't the same ball club. Their 1947 record was completely forgotten by the 2000 fans who watched in wonderment as they methodically completed their chore.

It would be difficult to discern a star in the Principia-C. bout. Every hiltopper performed excellently. The line and backfield shared the laurels.

I.S.D. looked good! Although they didn't display a particularly impressive break-away runner, they did show a fine passer and some good ground-gainers.

Waverly was severely weakened for the afternoon game with the Tigers, however, and probably would have made a better showing at full strength.

Some all-state candidates are already popping up in this area. Bob Kuttelman of Pittsfield has looked consistently good.

Tommye Pizer of Beardstown is another backfield candidate. Jacksonville's Stan Spotts has shown terrific improvement and shines on defense as well as offense.

Waverly has a good end in Don Peters. I.S.D. scouts had marked him as the Scotties' key man.

Eugene Anderson of Pleasant Hill has been marked by several officials as "the best we have seen thus far."

Jerseyville has a good runner in Bailey.

Pass plays brought some amusing incidents in games during the week. Wednesday night, during the J.H.S.-Winchester freshman-sophomore clash, a Jacksonville lineman intercepted a Wildcat pass. Thinking that this was illegal, he tossed the ball high into the air. Another Crimson grabbed the ball out of the air, giving J.H.S. possession. But before the hosts could run a play, they had to take a penalty for an illegal forward pass.

Waverly's Luttrell chucked a pass during the I.S.D. game Friday afternoon, but it was blocked and went straight up. He caught his own toss, but the play lost two yards.

Stan Musial Paces N. L. In Everything But Home Runs

New York, Oct. 4.—(P)—Stan (The Man) Musial, after a year's absence, once again reigns as the batting champion of the National League.

The St. Louis Cardinal mauler won the third batting derby of his major league career Sunday when he finished the 1948 season with an unofficial 376 mark, 43 points higher than Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn who was second with a 333 mark.

In addition to compiling the highest batting average since Arky Vaughan socked .385 for the 1935 Pittsburgh Pirates, Musial finished first in every other batting department except home runs.

Johnny Mize of New York and Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh slammed 40 homers each to nose out Musial for the leadership. Musial belted 39 homers. Kiner and Mize also finished in a tie for the 1947 homer throne when they clubbed 51 apiece.

The 27-year old Musial led the loop in doubles, 45; triples, 18; runs batted in, 131; runs scored, 135; and hits, 230.

Musial previously won the batting crown in 1943 with a .357 mark and in 1946 with a .365 average. In both of those seasons he was voted the circuit's most valuable player.

Musial failed to place in stolen bases. Ashburn led the league in that specialty with 32 although he did not play after Aug. 28 due to a broken hand. Pee Wee Reese of Brooklyn was second in steals with 25.

Rip Sewell, 40-year-old right-hander of the Pirates, was the pitching leader. The blooper ball artist won 13 games and lost only three for a .813 mark. Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, brilliant left-hander of the Cards, finished second with a 20-7 record for a .741 showing. Brecheen also topped the league in strikeouts with 148. Johnny Sain of the champion Braves, won the most games, 24, and finished second to Brecheen in strikeouts with 137.

Ted Lyons Resigns As Manager Of White Sox

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(P)—Ted Lyons has quit the last-place Chicago White Sox.

His resignation as manager ends a 25-year active career with the club, one of the longest in major league history.

Charles Comiskey, 22-year-old heir of the baseball dynasty, last night announced the appointment of Jack Onslow as Lyons' successor. The 59-year-old Onslow moves up from the Sox Memphis farm club after guiding the Chicks to second place in the Southern Association this season.

Young Comiskey, only grandson of Charles A. Comiskey, one of the national sport's pioneers, said Lyons had refused a position in the White Sox farm system.

"Ted doesn't want a desk job," said Charles, who used to sit on Lyons' lap in the dugout as a kid. "He wants to stay active in the game and will start shopping for a new spot."

Lyons, who came to the Sox fresh from Baylor campus in 1923 and became one of the league's top pitchers, had only one comment:

"I did the best I could with what we had."

New York Stock Market

New York, Oct. 4.—(P)—Oils and rails headed a rising trend in the stock market today in quiet trading.

The volume was at the rate of 650,000 shares for a full day.

Most of the gains were from fractions to around a point.

On the higher side were Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Railway, Pure Oil, Standard Oil (N. J.) and Mission Corp.

Stocks in the curb market were mostly higher.

Bonds were narrow, and U. S. governments in the over the counter market were quiet and steady.

St. Paul, Montreal Little World Series Rivals

Columbus, O., Oct. 4.—(P)—St. Paul won the right to represent the American Association in the Little World Series by defeating Columbus, 5-3, here yesterday in the seventh game of their final playoffs.

The Saints will take on Montreal, International League winner, in the junior World Series. The two Brooklyn farm clubs open in St. Paul tomorrow.

St. Paul won the first two games from Columbus, but the Red Birds then swept three straight to move within one triumph of clinching the playoff title. St. Paul won a 3-1, 14-inning game Saturday and clinched the crown behind the four-hit pitching of Phil Haugstad, Mel Himes and Morris Martin yesterday.

Bears Whip Cardinals 28-17 Monday Night

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(P)—The Chicago Bears smashed and passed to a 28-17 National Football league victory over the defending champion Cardinals before this city's biggest professional game crowd, 52,765, at Comiskey Park tonight.

The outcome before the overflowed stadium seriously jarred the Cardinals' hope to repeat as western division champions and stamped the Bears as strong title favorites.

The champions erased an early 14-0 Bear lead and forged ahead 17-14 midway in the third period.

But on the Cardinal kickoff seconds later, Bear Halfback Frank Minelli returned 95 yards in a dazzling touchdown run which settled the issue.

That gave the Bears a 21-7 lead and a fourth touchdown on Sid Luckman's 6-yard shot to Noah Mullins, also in the third period, was just added insurance.

J. R. Boone, a seatback rookie from Tulsa, flitted over for the first two Bear touchdowns.

The Cardinals, suffering their first setback in eight games, including two league wins and their title triumph over the Philadelphia Eagles last last fall, were unable to coordinate their formidable attack.

Both of their touchdowns came on passes with Ray Maullof pitching short to Mal Kuttner in the second period and looping a 35-yard payoff toss to Boris Dimancheff in the third stanza.

Pat Harder's 30-yard field goal late in the second period, along with his two point conversions rounded out the Cardinal scoring.

Ex-Notre Dame star, Johnny Lujack, booted all four Bear conversions, and in addition played an alert defensive game which hampered the Cards' passing attack.

The much-desired Bear triumph followed their 45-7 league opening win over the highly-rated Green Bay Packers.

89-Yard March
The Bears marched 89 yards for their opening touchdown in the first period. A 24-yard run by Don Kinn, a 17-yard toss from Luckman to George Gubancic and Boone's 26-yard sprint to the Cardinal 7 were the main fireworks.

Then Boone skipped around his left end for his first touchdown.

Within three minutes of the second quarter, the Bears had slammed

All City Outfits In 'Good Shape,' Resume Workouts

Jacksonville's three football teams came through last week end's tests in "good shape," according to the city's mentors.

No new injuries were reported in the various camps Monday afternoon, although the usual assortment of bumps and bruises kept several players in light equipment. Several candidates who had been laying off due to previous mishaps reported again Monday.

Tom Mills was back at Jacksonville high school and Bob Grove was limbering up at Illinois College. Barney Vilk is still out of the I.C. rehearsal, and Coach Al Miller reported Monday that Grove is far from ready for action.

Most of the coaches "took it easy" on their charges Monday. All of the mentors were pulling out a few new plays for this week's combats: Rushville at Jacksonville, Friday night; Illinois college at North Central (Naperville), Saturday afternoon; and Illinois School for the Deaf at Mississippi School for the Deaf, Saturday afternoon.

Coach Dillel has picked out a new line play which the Blueboys will correct during the week. Coach Bob Kraushaar of J.H.S. plans to spend more time on blocking. Art Yates, I.B.D. grid chief, will work mostly on offense prior to the squad's departure Thursday morning.

I.C. Coach Joe Brooks has returned to the campus from a scouting trip to Iowa, during which he coached the North Central in action against Iowa Central. He made an extensive report to the Blueboy gridders on what they can expect in their first Little Nine loop test.

Football Officials Meet In Greenfield

Greenfield — School Supt. H. R. Offord and J. Russell Shields of Greenfield were hosts to members of the Southwestern Officials Association Wednesday evening.

At the close of the football rules discussion, refreshments were served. Those attending included: Fred Decker, R. Rhine, R. Anderson, Coach Charles Summers of Wood River; Supt. S. W. Frey, Coach Earl A. McNamee and A. Gregory of Eastman; Arthur Ruffini of Staunton; Coach John Rossetti of Carlinville; Coach Clarence Bradley of Carrollton; Coach Hinton, Ducky Scofield, Raymond Stevenson and Ted Wilson of Springfield; Kenneth Wilson, Robert Becker, Roy Belcher and Coach Don Laketch of Greenfield.

Spalding of Peoria kept its perfect mark intact when Fullback Bob Kump exploded for 17 yards and a touchdown with one minute to play.

The touchdown, Kump's second of the game, brought Spalding from a one point deficit to its final 18-12 margin over Peoria Central.

Notre Dame Leads College Grid Poll After First Vote

New York, Oct. 4.—(P)—Notre Dame, picking up where it left off at the end of the regular 1947 season, captured the No. 1 position in the first Associated Press poll to select the nation's 10 top teams in the current campaign today by a slim 10-point margin.

The season's inaugural poll, which drew ballots from 153 sports writers from coast to coast, was a tight two-way battle between Notre Dame and North Carolina, with Northwestern an impressive third.

North Carolina collected 55 first-place votes, five more than Notre Dame, and 24 second-place votes to 23 for the Irish. But the third-place vote—29 for Notre Dame and 21 for Carolina—put the Irish on top.

Gets 1200 Votes
On the usual basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third, and so on, Notre Dame tallied exactly 1,200 points as a result of its narrow victory over Purdue and last week's 40-0 walloping of Pittsburgh.

North Carolina, which crushed Texas in its opener and defeated Georgia, 21-14, last Saturday, wound up with 1,190 points. Northwestern, following up its three-touchdown victory over UCLA with a similar triumph over Purdue, collected 21 first-place votes and 1,025 points.

Michigan, which finished second at the end of the 1947 season but swept past Notre Dame into the No. 1 spot in a special poll after the Rose Bowl game, landed in seventh place in today's poll.

Last Year's Best
As a matter of comparison, the top ten at the end of last season were Notre Dame, Michigan, Southern Methodist, Penn State, Texas, Alabama, Pennsylvania, Southern California, North Carolina and Georgia Tech. in that order.

The total vote with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

1. Notre Dame (50), 1,200
2. North Carolina (55), 1,190
3. Northwestern (21), 1,025
4. Southern Methodist (13), 882
5. Army (7), 725
6. Georgia Tech, 598
7. Michigan (21), 542
8. Minnesota, 407
9. California (3), 399
10. Penn State (2), 305

The second ten—11, Ohio State; 25; 12, Pennsylvania, 237; 13 and 14, Arkansas and Mississippi, 114 each; 15, Purdue, 61; 16, Texas, 39; 17, Indiana, 33; 18, Harvard, 29; 19, Nevada, 24; 20, Tennessee, 17.

Others—Michigan State, 15; and Illinois, 1.

Quarbacker Richie Smith's point after touchdown gave the Auroras a 7-6 triumph over LaSalle. Peru in a Big Eight tilt kept them on the heels of league leader, Joliet. Halfback Dick Fitzgerald's seven yard plunge across LaSalle's goal in the third quarter set the stage for the climax play.

It was in the final period that Bill Lyons, a substitute Aurora back, split the uprights to send Rantoul's Eagles to their first defeat, also by a 7-6 margin. A good linebacking performance by Lyons a few minutes before had stopped Rantoul's running attack clock, forcing a punt that gave Aurora the ball for its touchdown drive.

Versatile Quarterback
Quarterback Bob Watson put on the weekend's most versatile extra point exhibition in Pekin's 48-0 win of Lincoln. Watson made good on four of five attempts for placekick conversions, ran the ball over for another and flipped a short pass for a sixth.

The top scoring outburst was engineered by Halfback Carl Cummings in leading Casey to a 32-0 win over Paris. The 190-pound Cummings battered across for five touchdowns, the longest a 30 yard excursion through the middle.

The Casey flash didn't outline John Bauer, Benton's 220-pound fullback, very much if at all. In 17 running tries against Marion, Bauer gained 154 yards to score four touchdowns. He also added two conversions as Benton won, 33-6. The burly fullback's leather hugging nose has accounted for 554 yards on 55 attempts in the last three games.

Torrid Scoring Parade
With the count knotted 6-6 in the final period of the Decatur-Georgetown contest, fans began to wag their heads like spectators at a tennis match. Here's what happened on three successive plays from scrimmage: Decatur Quarterback, Johnny Boyle, passed to Halfback Al Zellars who scooted 38 yards for his second touchdown. After Decatur kicked off, Charles "Deacon" McKenzie circled end for a 72-yard Georgetown scoring dash. Then, following Georgetown's kickoff, Zellars rammed 66 yards for the six pointer that gave Decatur an 18-12 decision.

Jim Philbee, Jean Peoria Manual High School, supplied the fireworks in the Ram's 19-0 triumph over Keawane, their fourth straight shutout win. Philbee galloped 14, 25 and 47 yards on off tackle smashes for Manual's touchdowns. He also counted the game's lone conversion, raising his four game scoring bag to 50 points.

Stop Win Streak
Lake Forest's win string was stopped at 21 games, but thanks mainly to the yeoman work of Fullback Andy Semmelman, the Forresters salvaged a 7-7 tie with Warren of Gurnee. Semmelman reeled off gains of 130 yards on 19 running attempts. He plunged for his team's touchdown and rushed the ball across for the extra point.

Spalding of Peoria kept its perfect mark intact when Fullback Bob Kump exploded for 17 yards and a touchdown with one minute to play.

The touchdown, Kump's second of the game, brought Spalding from a one point deficit to its final 18-12 margin over Peoria Central.

Secret Practice Held By Illinois Gridders

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 4.—(P)—The Boilermakers went through fundamental drills today, with the stress placed on blocking and tackling workouts.

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 4.—(P)—Three of Northwestern's first string football players were handicapped by injuries today as the undefeated Wildcats opened practices for Minnesota Saturday.

Defensive quarterback Dick Flow was unable to suit up because of an injury. Fullback Gasper Perry, cone was nursing a smashed nose and tackle Fats Day had a cut lip and a charley horse.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 4.—(P)—Head work occupied most of today's practice as the Michigan footballers began preparations for their opening conference battle Saturday with Purdue.

A major part of the session was devoted to a review of the movies of Michigan's 14-0 triumph over Oregon.

The balance was divided between limbering up exercises and a brief scrimmage between the reserves and Michigan's varsity replacements.

The varsity sat on the sidelines as Michigan trainers said Gene Dedicote, flashy Negro back, likely will be sidelined for the Purdue clash. He has a leg injury.

Iowa City, Iowa, Oct. 4.—(P)—The University of Iowa football squad today started a short week of preparation to meet Ohio State Saturday.

Guard Ray Carlson suited up today and did conditioning work to aid the bad knee which kept him home last Saturday.

The afternoon session today headlined play-polishing, with the accent on offensive pass formations and timing. Scout Maury Kent picked out a freshman squad and began teaching it Ohio State defenses to throw at the varsity.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 4.—(P)—A week of football practice jammed into three days—that's the current program at the University of Wisconsin.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher ran the Badgers through a play rehearsal today and scheduled scrimmages for tomorrow and Wednesday. On Thursday, the Badgers leave by plane for the West Coast where they meet California at Berkeley Saturday.

That's an indication of how the Indians took their 8 to 3 victory over the Red Sox in their first pennant playoff in American League history.

They celebrated, joyously and noisily. That was only natural for a team that brought the pennant to Cleveland for the first time since 1920 and did it the hard way after almost blowing their big chance. But through the noise and handshaking a note of solemnity. It was obvious and fond embraces there always was that they believed their job wasn't finished. They still have to face a world series with the Boston Braves day after tomorrow.

Answers Questions
Boudreau, the battered leader who personally conducted his team to triumph, backed up against a locker and conducted a serious question and answer session with a horde of invading reporters. President Bill Veeck, grinning broadly, disappeared into the shower room and let the team take over.

Gene Bearden, the lean left-handed pitcher who came back to win after only one day's rest, posed and clowning willingly for photographers but seemed more concerned about the state of his tattered sweat shirt. "I only won ten straight with it. Don't let anything happen now," Bearden shouted as exultant teammates hoisted him to their shoulders again and again. He kept clutching the torn place at the shoulder and as soon as he could regain his feet Gene carefully removed the shirt and made sure that even the "lucky" safety pins holding it together weren't lost.

Used Knuckler on Williams
As to his pitching, Bearden explained that he kept throwing his knuckle ball to Ted Williams, the Red Sox slugger who got only one puny hit in four times at bat.

"He threw his knuckler every time he was in trouble," explained Catcher Jim Hegan. "It's his best pitch. No, I wouldn't say it was Gene's best day. He has pitched better games."

Boudreau, who withheld the news that Bearden would pitch today until the teams actually took the field, had this explanation for his strategy:

"I told him yesterday after out a lot of clamor on the train for meeting but I knew there would be people would be bothering him, so I didn't say anything. I wasn't trying to fool anybody. He pitched a great game and he deserves a lot of credit."

Hit Curve Ball
Lou had very little to say about his own part in the game except that his two home runs both were hit off curve balls. He preferred to talk about Bearden.

Joe McCarthy, the Red Sox manager, came in to offer his congratulations and stopped to exchange a few bantering words with Joe Gordon, who used to play for him. Hank Greenberg joined in the handshaking and so did American League President Will Harridge.

Then Bill McKenzie, the Indians coach who used to manage the Cincinnati Reds, summed up the situation in a shout, "Let's go over and see that other ball park."

Fred Haas Jr.
Wins Golf Meet

Portland, Ore., Oct. 4.—(P)—Lanky Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, won the three-day play-off for the Portland Open golf tournament today defeating the great Ben Hogan and tough Johnny Palmer of Badin, N.C.

The 32-year-old former national intercollegiate title holder, a pro since 1946, earned a two-under par 70 to beat out Hogan, with a 71. Palmer blew his chances when he took a dub's eight on the par five fifteenth. He finished with a 75.

Haas, son of a professional, pocketed $2,450 for the win, his biggest in his brief career. He had won the Peoria open earlier this year and has been knocking consistently at the door since then.

Two mighty blasts into the left field screen at Fenway Park by Manager Lou Boudreau and a three-run homer by third baseman Ken Keltner high outside the orchard—all within the first five innings—gave the tribemen all the runs they needed to humble the hose and qualify for their first World Series in 28 years.

The Indians will oppose the Boston Braves in the fall classic beginning here Wednesday.

Bearden, 28-year-old Purple Heart veteran of the war in the Pacific, pitched his second complete game in three days and would have blanked the fearsome Sox sluggers for the last eight innings but for an error behind him by second baseman Joe Gordon in the sixth.

Manager Leads Way
Led by Boudreau with his two circuit smashes and two line singles, the Indians bashed two Boston flingers, Denny Galehouse and Ellis Kinder, for 13 solid blows and were never under pressure after Keltner delivered his three-run blast in the fourth.

The 36-year-old Galehouse, a surprise nomination by Manager Joe McCarthy, was driven to the showers by Keltner's homer, his 31st of the year. Kinder gave up the last eight Cleveland hits and four runs.

A crowd of just under 34,000 saw the Cleveland players put on a wild demonstration as they rushed for the dressing room after the final out. Despite a newly-fitted artificial leg, youthful President Bill Veeck of the tribe half-ran clear across the infield to join his men and help whack Bearden's broad shoulders.

Braves Watch Game
Among those who watched the Cleveland's power display were most of the members of the Boston Braves, National League champions. They got an eyeful.

Explosive was the word for the tribe's attack. Boudreau's men arrived in town only at mid-morning, tired-eyed and thoroughly angry with themselves for having blown an apparently safe lead in the closing days of the race.

They took it out on McCarthy's curvers. Every Indian who played through the game except catcher Jim Hegan and rightfielder Bob Kennedy joined the assault. Besides his homer, Keltner batted a double and a single against the left barricade. Larry Doby, Negro outfielder, bounced a brace of doubles off the same wall.

Greatest In World
Boudreau, at least for today, was the greatest manager in the world. The youthful pilot, in addition to his four base hits and three runs, fielded flawlessly and set a brilliant pattern for his men.

Three slick double plays helped Bearden wrap it up, but the willowy southpaw needed very little assistance. His worst inning, as it turned out, was the first, in which a double to right by Johnny Pesky and a slash down the left field line by Vern Stephens gave the Sox a run to match Boudreau's first four-master.

For the next four innings, only four Boston players reached first against Bearden's "curve-slider"—three on walks and Birdie Tebbets on a single through the left side of the infield.

With perfect support, Bearden would have got past the sixth without damage, too. One was out when Ted Williams popped one high over second base. Gordon staggered around under the ball, partly blinded by the sun, and finally let it bounce from his glove.

Doerr's Home Run
Bearden then struck out Stephens, but Bobby Doerr caught a fast ball squarely and looped it high into the left field screen to score Williams ahead of him.

After that, the Sox were through—and knew it. A double play cut them down in the seventh after Bill Goodman had walked. Williams looped a single to left with two away in the eighth, and died there. Billy Hitchcock walked with one down in the ninth, after which Bearden whipped a third strike past Gordon and forced Tebbets to ground to third for the final out of the one-sided contest.

Bearden, who shut out the Detroit Tigers in a vital game only two days ago, struck out six batters and worked sharply and easily all the way. The victory was his seventh in succession as the Indians drove to the flag.

Engineers Say Old Wabash Well Source Of Troublesome Leak

An abandoned well on the Wabash railroad right-of-way has been found to be the source of a large volume of excess water which interfered with construction of the North Church street sewer, according to the engineering firm of Casler & Stapleton. Details of the old well and the water it pours under the street were given by the engineers in a written report to the council last night.

Since work started on the North Church street sewer between Lafayette and Independence avenues there has been much excess water under the street, the engineers stated. They estimated that the flowage was between 200 and 300 gallons per minute.

In company with Wabash representatives the engineers traced the water to the well, which the engineers say is its source. Casler and Stapleton recommended that the city insist that the Wabash take steps to completely stop the leakage of water, and pay the expense of tracing the water, which involved considerable excavation.

Many Gather For McCarty Rites At Winchester

Winchester. — Largely attended funeral services were conducted Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Danner Funeral Home here for Mrs. Harvey McCarty. The Rev. C. L. Leitz officiated.

Miss Betty Leach sang "My Work Is Done" and "Beyond the Sunset." She was accompanied by Mrs. Lucille Coultas.

The flowers were cared for by Alwyn Clanton, Virginia Fearnley, Virginia Grady, Mabel Sellers, Agnes Leitz and Maude Workman.

Hold Last Rites For Dennis Hull Sunday Afternoon

Final rites for Dennis Hull were held Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Gillham Funeral Home, with the Rev. W. J. Boston officiating.

Mrs. Louis Hardin was organist. The floral offerings were cared for by Mrs. Arthur Denney, Mrs. E. A. Bowden, Miss Bess Hadden and Miss Lucretia Rencher.

CANADA GEESE HOLD POLITICAL CAUCUS NEAR CITY LIMITS

A small flock of wild geese held a caucus high in the air east of Jacksonville Saturday morning. Several amused spectators Monday gave slightly varying versions of the affair.

Everybody agrees the large Canada geese were flying high and due south. The traditional V formation was perfect and would have delighted the heart of any drill sergeant in the goose world.

When the flock hit just east of the city limits, the formation suddenly went to pieces. Evidently the leader had been challenged by an individual. Maybe a faction had called for a vote of confidence.

In true political fashion, the geese milled around in confused circles for about five minutes, with every goose honking his horn continuously.

All at once they reorganized in V formation and continued their flight, again due south. Some spectators said the old leader was fired and retired to the rear ranks. Others said he won a vote of confidence. At any rate, the direction of flight wasn't changed.

GLENDA ANN BEELEY BREAKS ARM IN FALL

Glenda Ann Beeley, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Beeley, 421 S. Clay avenue, is a patient at Our Saviour's hospital for treatment of a broken radius bone of the right arm.

The injury occurred early Sunday afternoon when she fell on the sidewalk while playing near her home. Surgical reduction of the fracture will be required.

Kerosene Bottle Explodes; Young Girl Saves Home

Quick thinking on the part of a 15-year-old girl saved the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brogdon from destruction Saturday morning, when a bottle of kerosene being used to start a fire in a kitchen stove exploded. The family resides northeast of the city.

The girl, Katherine Brogdon, had cleaned out the stove and believed that all fire had been removed. After applying some kerosene from a bottle into the stove, there was a flash of flames and the bottle containing the kerosene exploded.

Miss Brogdon quickly closed all doors, ran outside, secured a bucket of water and started battling the flames.

Her 13-year-old brother, Carl, hastened to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fortado, nearby, but when Mr. and Mrs. Fortado reached the Brogdon home, Katherine had extinguished the flames.

The interior of the kitchen was damaged. Some of the furniture and a small amount of clothing were burned.

Former Marines Urged To Attend Supper Thursday

All former members of the Marine Corps residing in this area are invited to attend a free ham-broth and navy bean supper to be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 7 at the Amvet clubrooms. The supper is sponsored by the State Department of the Marine Corps League, which is held in connection with the regular meeting of the Jacksonville detachment.

Newly elected officers of the local detachment will be installed by Charles Gordon, past state commandant.

Commandant C. P. Siegfried requests all marines in this area to make their reservations as soon as possible by calling the Amvet club, phone 968. The deadline for reservations is 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Bradley U. Opens; Figures Show Drop In Vet Students

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 4.—Bradley university reopened today with the largest enrollment in its history—3,600 fulltime students.

University officials said the enrollment was 15 per cent above last year's despite a sharp drop in the number of veterans.

President David B. Owen said the number of students was far beyond expectations. He reported 2,250 out of last year's 2,450 undergraduates returned to classes this year—a loss of eight per cent compared with the national expectation of a 40 per cent loss of non-graduating students.

The enrollment of veterans dropped from 30 per cent of the freshman class last year to eight per cent of the present first-year class.

T. A. Daly, Poet, Journalist Dies

Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Thomas Augustine Daly, 77, poet, humorist, lecturer and journalist, died today after a long illness.

It was for his Italian dialect verse that Daly became famous. He acquired an accurate ear for the broken English of immigrants as a grocery clerk during boyhood and as a young newspaper reporter whose beat took him into Italian-American sections of Philadelphia.

His reputation as a humorist was exemplified in "Between Two Loves."

"I gotta love for Angela
I love Carlotta too
I no can marry both of dem
So Wat I gonna do?"

The late William Lyon Phelps of Yale university wrote that the Daly "talent" group of poems "seems to me perfection."

One Man Art Show

Professor Of Art At MacMurray Lauded In N.Y.

An exhibition of twenty paintings by James Guy, associate professor of art at MacMurray College, is now on display at the Carlebach Gallery in New York City, an institution devoted to modern painting and African sculpture. All the canvases in this exhibit, some of which were done in Jacksonville, are examples of abstract art.

The New York Times carried a very favorable review of Mr. Guy's latest work. It said in part: "Each canvas nicely sustains a central movement without slipping off into the easy decorative effect. The wonder of the show is that such strict avoidance of mood or nervous vitality in line or shape can have issue in paintings that surely do work."

For Mr. Guy this is the first exhibition in five years. His last record is quite imposing, with four other one-man shows to his credit, in Hartford, Conn., and at the Boyen and the Feragil Galleries in New York.

His paintings have also been shown in many other places, including St. Louis and the International Exhibition at the Chicago World's Fair. Mr. Guy is represented in the permanent collection of Avery Memorial hospital, Hartford, and in many museums, some in foreign countries.

Esquire became interested in his series called "Fun in Ghost Town," twelve humorous imaginary evocations of the lusty and strutting characters of frontier life who once peopled a now abandoned town. The magazine reproduced six of them in the August 1941 issue and accompanied them by a three-page article entitled "Guy: Ghoul of the Ghostly West." Primarily an account of the Guy's western trip which inspired the paintings, the article also contains a story of the painter's early life and his struggle for recognition.

Denies Surrealist Tag
Reviewers of his earlier work called Mr. Guy a surrealist, a title which he considers somewhat inaccurate. No dream, he says, was ever as important to him as reality.

Local Men Attend I. A. A. Meeting

Farm Bureau officers of this area attended a district meeting conducted in Springfield Monday by officers of the Illinois Agricultural association.

Policy subjects were discussed by President Charles Shuman, General Counsel Paul Mathias; Field Secretary George Metzger; Market Specialist L. L. Colvis, and I. E. Parrett, former Morgan county farm adviser now secretary of special services, I. A. A.

FALSE ALARM
The fire department was called to the Gibson building on East Morgan street at 4:10 o'clock Monday afternoon, but upon arrival found that there was no fire.

Smoke from the flue had blown into a window at the Chamber of Commerce, and an alarm was sent to the department.

Music Patrons Pledge Aid To Civic Program

One hundred and sixty patrons of music attended the third kick-off dinner of the 1948 membership campaign of the Jacksonville Civic Music association. The banquet was served at the First Baptist church.

The affair was marked by heightened enthusiasm for the campaign. Last year only 106 members and friends attended the kick-off dinner.

Dr. E. C. Bone, association president, presided during the evening. Speakers were Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland, Speaker of the House Hugh Green and Robert Flynn, national field representative, Civic Concert services, N.Y.C.

HAVE YOU REGISTERED? TUESDAY IS LAST DAY

Whether you vote in the election Tuesday, Nov. 2, depends entirely on whether you are properly registered in your precinct.

The last day to register for the important November election is Tuesday, Oct. 5. Better make certain your name and address appear correctly in the registration records. Registration will be carried on at each polling place in the county from 6 a. m. until 9 p. m. Tuesday. A registrar and two deputies will be in charge of the work in each precinct.

All voters who have changed addresses, even though in the same precinct; all whose names have changed through marriage, and all who have become of voting age since the last election, must register or re-register.

Monday was the final day for registration at the court house.

Tuesday is the last day to register at the polling places.

Ministers Elect Lewis N. Raymond Association Head

The Rev. Lewis N. Raymond, minister of State Street Presbyterian church, was elected president of the Jacksonville Ministerial association when the organization held its October meeting at Grace Methodist church Monday morning.

Other officers named in the annual election were vice president, the Reverend Frank Marston, minister of Grace Methodist church; for secretary, the Reverend Roy S. Hulan, minister of Central Christian church; and for treasurer, the Reverend Arthur P. Ewert, minister of Westminster Presbyterian church.

At 10:30 a.m. the Jacksonville ministers joined the ministers of the surrounding area in the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Jacksonville Area Ministerial association meeting. The Reverend L. R. Cronkrite of Virginia is president of this organization. A discussion of possible cooperative endeavors was entered into by all ministers present.

After adjournment many of the ministers had lunch together at the Dunlap Hotel.

Auto And Truck Collide On 104 East Of Chapin

Two Morgan county drivers escaped injury when their cars collided at the Gulf station on Route 104 just this side of Chapin at 5 p.m. Monday.

Sheriff department and state police officers who investigated the accident said that Leo Scott of Chapin, drove his 1936 Chevrolet coupe out of the station driveway in front of a 1941 Chevrolet pickup truck owned by Charles J. Drury of Alexander and driven by Mrs. Joan Drury Carpenter.

The pickup left the south side of the slab and rolled over on its side.

Neither car was badly damaged, but neither was able to move under its own power. They were brought to the Stubblefield garage.

Mrs. Hettie Walker Dinner Guest On 84th Anniversary

The eighty-fourth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Hettie Walker was the occasion of a 6 o'clock dinner Saturday evening, Oct. 2, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Patrick, 1015 North Diamond street.

Lighted candles with pink and white streamers extended to each plate. The table was centered with a musical birthday cake.

At the conclusion of the dinner the guests gathered in the living room which was attractively decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. Mrs. Walker opened the many gifts she received during the day. She was assisted by her great-granddaughters, Linda and Sandra Walker and Genia Sue Davis.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walker and granddaughters Linda and Sandra; Mr. and Mrs. James Davis and daughter Genia Sue, all of Jacksonville; Mrs. C. E. Warcup, Bloomington; Mrs. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick. A number of other members of the family were unable to attend because of illness and distance.

Typhoon Slashes Through Okinawa

Tokyo, Tuesday, Oct. 5.—(AP)—A violent typhoon slashed through Okinawa yesterday, causing $10,000,000 damage, and is now heading toward populous southern Japan, the U.S. Army reported today.

There was no mention of casualties on American-held Okinawa. About 55 American families were living in Bucknerville and Awase housing areas, both badly damaged. They are seven miles apart.

Reports from Kyukyu command-er said troop housing remained "nearly intact" but most large warehouses were destroyed.

Politics Hot Topic At Meet: Lewis

Cincinnati, Oct. 4.—(AP)—John L. Lewis admitted tonight that politics will be a hot topic at the United Mine Workers' convention beginning tomorrow. But he was silent on where the miners will stand in the presidential race.

Lewis' hostility toward President Truman has been widely publicized among the 600,000 members of his union. But all he would say on the subject at a pre-convention news conference was that he "assumed" there will be discussion of a political endorsement at the 10-day session.
